CHARLES-TOWN, FEBRUARY 4.

ALF-breed Abram, a friendly Creek Indian (but of no great influence) arrived at Augusta the 1st inst. and told the people there, that five of the fellows who murdered the Long-Cane people, were gone into the Creek nation, and the other two to Tougaloo where the Young-Warrior of Etatowin is settled; he added, that there had been great debates among the heathens in the woods, about putting the murderers to death: He confirmed the accounts of Fool-Harry's son being one of the murderers, and of Multitah being off for the Chickah nation, three days after he got home from the congress in order to make peace with them. Both Fool-Harry and Multitah, we are told, were signers to the late treaty at Augusta.

We hear, that Multitah, in a very few days after the congress was over, told a gentleman, that there should be another talk between the Creeks and the English, before the mulberries were ripe.

Half-breed Abram has advised, that no time should be lost, in sending to the Chickahs to kill the two murderers that are gone thither, and to do it in the presence of some white man, as nothing less would convince the Creeks that the Chickahs will not join them.

Extract of a letter from Mobile, dated Dec. 17, 1763.

"My last acquainted you that M. l'Abadie, the governor of New-Orleans was here, had delivered a good public talk, and was giving presents to the Chickah's and some other Indians, three years due: I promised to send you a copy of his talk, but have been disappointed of it. Among the Chickah's there was not a man of the English party, tho' they came from no less than fifty-seven towns; those all refused to come, tho' the whole nation was invited. The presents delivered them were very considerable, amongst them was a great number of guns, and near 6000 lb. of gun-powder and balls; of every other article they had in proportion: Immense promises were likewise made them; in particular that they should be sent for again in six months, to New-Orleans, to receive more considerable presents there, if they behaved well; and they have all returned pretty well satisfied. Whatever may have been said in public to the Indians, recommending that they should look upon, and behave to the English and French as one people, 'tis certain that in private no point, no arts have been wanting to withhold them from an alliance with us, by telling them, "That the English only wanted their lands, would give them nothing, use their women ill, and at last make slaves of the men; and by inviting them all to settle on the western banks of the Mississippi, where they should have lands and hunting-grounds far superior to what they now possessed, and real friends about them. In short, it is my opinion, that the French have some future prospect in view, that cannot tend to our good, for they spare no direct or indirect means to gain and preserve the friendship of every Indian tribe or nation. Some small tribes that were settled around this place, and were very useful to the Indians, by killing deer, catching fish &c. have in this manner been withdrawn to New-Orleans. An attempt of this sort was made while Col. Robertson was here, with a tribe that were known as about 20 miles up this river, and were going to be carried off in French boats; on the Colonel sent for the Indians, and gave him assurances, "That if they would remain on their lands, they should have the utmost protection from the English; be always treated as their own children, and never be suffered to want anything, which seems to have satisfied them.—The garrison of Fort Toulouse arrived here the 13th inst., accompanied by about 300 Indians, called by the French the Alibamons, and by our traders Stinking-Lungs: who are also come for presents from the French, with whom they have always lived in friendship, tho' they never would fight against us: Before that garrison quitted the fort they destroyed all the cannon, and the stores they could not bring away; after which, they say, they delivered the keys to the Wolf King, who immediately took possession of it; and removed into it with his family: As there is no message from him yet to put it into possession of the English, and his intentions are not known, Col. Robertson has determined not to send a garrison thither, till the Indians ask for one, which I am persuaded they never will.—The command sent to Tombigbee last arrived there in fifteen days, without meeting with the least interruption, and the Chickahs have hitherto behaved in the most friendly manner. Major Forbes was here a few days ago, from Pensacola, and is returned. Major Loftis is under orders to proceed with the 22d regiment to the Illinois, the 1st of January. The land on the Alabama (or Alibamons) is in general esteemed as good as that on the Illinois."

Capt. Dickenson, who arrived here last Sunday from Jamaica, on his passage took up the crew of a Providence frigate that had been cast away on Watling's Key.

Capt. Vardell, who arrived here the same day from Providence, has brought in part of the crew of an English ship from Havana for London, which struck on a rock among the north keys of Abaco, and immediately after sunk in three fathom water, with a considerable quantity of money on board.

On Thursday Lieutenant-colonel Robertson, set out for New-York by land.

Accordingly are desired to bring in their chase the latter, for further particulars may apply to EDWARD MARTIN, or

THE Co-partnership of NICHOLSON

& BAMPFELD being expired, they take this opportunity of returning thanks to all their friends, for their favours, and hope for a continuance of them to WILLIAM BAMP-FELD, who has purchased the remaining stock of GOODS belonging to the company, the greatest part whereof are lately imported; which he will continue to sell at a low advance, in order to clear his store, for a well assorted cargo he expects next fall.

George-Town, January 2, 1764.

THOMAS GODFREY,

Having enter'd into Co-partnership with Mr. THOMAS
GADSDEN, commencing the 1st instant;

BEGS leave to take this method of returning thanks to his friends and customers, for their favours to him, and hopes for a continuance thereof to GOD-FREY & GADSDEN, who now carry on the business: He will be further obliged to them, to discharge or settle their accounts previous thereto, as soon as possible.

Charles-Town, January 22, 1764.

THE Co-partnership of DOWNES and

NICHOLSON being expired near three years, and a few accounts still remaining unpaid, THOMAS NICHOLSON's circumstances and situation, cannot suffer them to remain so any longer; therefore he desires all concerned to take notice, that in a very few weeks longer, every book account, notes and bonds, will be put in the hands of an Attorney.

As our former Advertisement has had no other effect, than bringing these to whom we are indebted to call for payment:

WE do therefore, for the last time,
give this public notice, to all who are indebted to us,
by bond, note, or account, that unless they discharge the same
before the first of March next, they will be put into the hands of an attorney. LISTON, BENFIELD, & JONES.

Charles-Town, January 7th, 1764.

THE Co-partnership of NICHOLSON

& BAMPFELD being expired the 1st current, and JO-SEPH NICHOLSON being determin'd to leave the province by the first of April, he acquaints all those indebted to that company (except a few who lately, by agreement, bought goods payable next spring) that they must pay their debts of what kind soever, to him or Mr. BAMPFELD, in two months from this date:
And, as advertisements of this sort, often repeated, seldom have any good effect, he gives notice, that this shall remain only in the papers, that their accounts shall be all ready in three weeks, and that they may have no excuse, good rice, and any kind of indigo will be taken in payment: all who have accounts against them, are desired to send them in.

The Subscribers, commissioners of Ponpon bridge, do hereby give notice, to the inhabitants of St. Paul's and St. Bartholomew's parishes,

THAT they have assessed them and the non-residents, in the sum of Four Shillings per head on all males, from the age of 16 to 60 years, for the repairs of said bridge: All persons concerned are therefore desired to pay their respective sums, to either of us by the first day of March next at farthest, for after that day, we shall without further notice, proceed against all defaulters as the law directs.

JOHN MITCHELL, Commissioners for St.
ANDREW MAYBANK, Paul's parish.
JOHN NORTH, Commissioners for St.
ADAM CULLIATT, Bartholomew's parish.
JAMES SHARP,

JOHN JOHNSTON, Watch-Maker,
in ELLIOTT STREET, from LONDON.

THANKS his friends and customers

for their former favours, and hopes the continuance of their recommendation, as he continues to repair watches in the best manner: Ladies and gentlemen pleased to favour him with their commands, may depend on having them done on more reasonable terms, than has hitherto been customary in this province, and warranted for twelve months.

This is to give Notice, to all persons that are indebted to the subscriber, by bond, note or book-
debt,

THAT if they do not make payment

immediately, they may expect to find their accounts in the hands of an attorney, to be sued for without further notice, as there is an absolute necessity for settling his affairs, by the first day of March, that he may be enabled to settle his accounts with his creditors. GEORGE WALKER.

Start down here, and put ourselves in arms, to act with them for the defence of the settlement. Since Cuba was restored to the Spaniards, we are informed, that in all the Spanish dominions in America, no man, of whatever quality or colour, that is able to walk, is excused from a daily training to military exercise. Perhaps no more is intended in the provinces of Guatimala, &c.

From the BARBADOS MERCURY, December 21, 1763. By the Recovery brigantine, which arrived a few days ago from Newfound land, we hear, that the fishery on that coast has been very successful this season. That upwards of 600 fall of British, and 200 fall of French vessels were employed. That some bickerings happened between the English and French, the latter of which insisted on an exclusive right of fishing on that part of the coast allotted to them by the treaty, which was denied by the English; who very justly told them, that though a right was given them to fish on that part of the coast, yet it did not preclude them from fishing there likewise. Commodore Greaves, who commanded on that station, sent two frigates to keep them quiet. When the French sailed for Europe, they left all their fishing boats, amounting to several hundred, and a large quantity of salt, behind them; which being directly contrary to the treaty, the commodore ordered the whole to be destroyed, which was effectually done. They further add, that all the frigates and sloops have been fully employed by the commodore in taking draughts and soundings in the bays, &c. on the coast of Labrador, where it is thought even a more extensive fishery than on the Newfoundland coast may be carried on.

The ship from Havana lately left on the north Keys of Abacoa, is said to have belonged to Jasper Hall, Esq. of Jamaica. On Sunday last died Mr. Jeremiah Ransfeler, of New-York, who arrived here from thence, some weeks ago, in a bad state of health.

NEW-MARKET RACES.

Last Tuesday the following horses started for the free plate at New-Market, carrying ten stone, and came in as under:

1st heat. 2d heat.
Dr. John Murray's (late Huger's) Slam, aged 1 1
Edmund Bellinger, Esq.'s cream horse Steady, five years old, 2 2
Wm. Moultrie, Esq.'s brown horse Stirling, 3 3
Mr. William Sanders's ditto, 4 4
Steady was lame in the off foot behind, before starting, and quite out of condition, therefore no sport; odds two to one Slam against the field.

SKIM and STEADY run a match at the same place, on the 10th of March next, for one hundred guineas, half forfeit: Slam carrying 10 stone, Steady 8 stone 7 lb.

On Wednesday four started for the three and four years old plate, carrying weight for age, viz.

1st heat. 2d heat.
The hon. Edward Fenwick's, Esq.'s Babraham, four years old, 1 1
Istate of Izard, Esq.'s Brutus, same age, 2 2
John Ainslie, Esq.'s roan colt, three years old, 3 3
Col. Singleton's ditto, ditto, 4 drawn.
The first was a good heat; the second won hollow by Babraham, who was in fine order to run: Great fums hid between Brutus and Babraham, and of course Brutus's friends were let down. Had they been in equal condition to start, 'tis supposed it would have been as fine a race as ever was seen, and no horse ever bid more fair to make a good match than these two sons of honest Old Brutus, now the property of Daniel Huger, Esq.
